ILLINOIS HISTORICAL SURVEY

McLean County Medical Society 1854 - 1954

I do solemnly swear
by that which I hold most sacred:
*That I will be loyal to the profession of medicine and just and generous to its members;
That I will lead my life and practice my art
in uprightness and honor;
That into whatsoever house I shall enter,
it shall be for the good of the sick
to the utmost of my power,
I holding myself aloof from wrong,
from corruption, from the tempting of others to vice;
That I will exercise my art solely for the cure of my patients,
and will give no drug,
perform no operation for a criminal purpose,
even if solicited, far less suggest it;
That whatsoever I shall see or hear of the lives of men which is not fitting to be spoken,
I will keep inviolably secret.*

These things I do promise and in proportion as I am faithful to this my oath may happiness and good repute be ever mine — the opposite if I shall be forsworn.

WE DEDICATE THIS BOOK
TO OUR WIVES
NOT ONLY FOR THEIR LOYALTY AND PATIENCE
IN SHARING US WITH A DEMANDING PROFESSION,
BUT FOR THEIR HELPFUL UNDERSTANDING
IN THOSE BITTER TIMES WHEN OUR MORTAL SCIENCE FAILS, AND, TOO,
FOR THE CHEER, LOVE, AND FAITH THEY BRING TO US
TO OFFSET
THE PICTURES OF PAIN, ANXIETY, AND GRIEF THAT FILL
OUR MEMORIES

PREFACE

Bloomington, Ill.

Dr. C. R. Parke, Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Doctor Parke: — On September 7, 1904, the McLean County Medical Society passed unanimously the following resolution:

Resolved, That Dr. C. R. Parke be asked to prepare a history of the McLean County Medical Society, which is to be included in the volume of history now being prepared by the McLean County Historical Society.

Trusting that you will do us the honor to accept this invitation, I am,

Fraternally yours,

A. F. Kaeser, Secretary

Park Place 2460 3rd Street, Louisville, Ky.

November 1, 1904

To the McLean County Medical Society, Bloomington, Ill.:

Dear Doctors: — In accordance with your request of April 7, 1904, I have the honor to report the following condensed history of the organization of the McLean County Medical Society, with a short biographical sketch of each member, also a brief history of the physicians who located in Bloomington prior to said organization.

The records of the society having been destroyed by the conflagration of 1900, I have been at great loss for specific data regarding many members.

I feel under lasting obligations to Drs. Lee Smith, F. H. Godfrey and F. J. Welch for their invaluable assistance in collecting necessary material.

Fraternally yours,

Charles R. Parke, M. D.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

Soon after the organization of McLean County — December 25, 1830 — Dr. John Anderson came to Bloomington (1833) from Kentucky. He was of splendid character, and devoted to his profession. He did a great deal of hard work in the newly-settled county and died from over-exertion during a very sickly season, about the year 1844, lamented by the whole community, leaving an only child, the wife of our townsman, J. H. Cheney.

Next came Dr. Thomas H. Haines from Ohio, who entered into partnership with Dr. Anderson, devoting all his energy to the arduous duties of his profession, and who also died in a sickly season from the extra labor he was called upon to perform; honored and loved by the entire community.

Dr. J. F. Henry was another of the pioneer physicians of Bloomington. He also was a Kentuckian, and an ex-congressman. He located in Bloomington in 1835, coming directly from Cincinnati, where he served some time in the Ohio Medical College. He remained in Bloomington about ten (10) years, acquiring an extensive practice. In 1846 he moved to Burlington, Iowa, where he established a large practice, and where he died in 1873, full of years and honors.

About the year 1836, Dr. David Wheeler came from New York and located in Bloomington. He continued in active practice until 1848, when he moved to Waynesville, Illinois, where he died at the ripe old age of 89 years, honored by all who knew him.

Next came Dr. Jarvis Gaylord, who practiced here about five (5) years, when he moved to the northern part of the state.

About the year 1838, Dr. E. M. Colburn came to Bloomington from Buffalo, N. Y., practiced about two (2) years, when he returned to New York, came back in a year or two and about the year 1850 moved to Peoria, Ill., where from last accounts he was still practicing his profession.

Dr. Garrett Elkins, who lived in Sangamon county, changed his residence to Bloomington in 1845. In 1853 he moved to Iowa.

Most of the above history was vouched for by the late General A. Gridley, who knew them all, having employed them in his family.

ORGANIZATION OF McLEAN COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

On Monday evening, March 20, 1854, the following physicians of Bloomington, Illinois, met in the county court house for the purpose of organizing a Medical Society:

Present, Drs. S. Noble, Worrell, Crothers, T. P. Rogers, Roe, Hoover, Parke, William Elder, Espey, Stipp, D. L. Crist, Cromwell, A. H. Luce, and Freese.

On motion, Dr. A. H. Luce was called to the chair and Dr. Freese appointed secretary.

The following resolutions were offered and adopted:

Resolved, First, that we now proceed to organize a Medical Society of the county of McLean.

Second, that a committee of five (5) be appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws for the society.

The chair appointed Drs. Stipp, Hoover, and Roe and the meeting added the names of Dr. A. H. Luce and Finch to the committee.

Third, that this society shall be auxiliary to the State and National Medical Societies.

Fourth, that we adjourn to meet in two weeks from tonight to receive the report of the committee.

Fifth, that all physicians in this and adjoining counties be invited to meet and participate with us.

SECOND MEETING

The second meeting of the Society was held pursuant to adjournment at the Court House, Monday evening, April 3, 1854.

The Committee appointed to draft Constitution and By-laws reported and their report was accepted, article by article.

The following officers were then elected:

The following are the original signers of the constitution:

Dr. A. H. Luce, Dr. G. W. Stipp, Dr. E. R. Roe, Dr. Wm. Cromwell, Dr. S. W. Noble, Dr. John Finch, Dr. D. L. Crist, Dr. C. R. Parke, Dr. H. Noble, Dr. J. R. Freese, Dr. T. F. Worrell, Dr. E. K. Crothers, Dr. Espey, and Dr. Conklin.

ORIGINAL CONSTITUTION OF THE McLEAN COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY OF ILLINOIS

ARTICLE I

This society shall be called "The McLean County Medical Society" and shall consist of physicians who have united in its formation, and of such others as shall hereafter be duly elected members thereof, all of whom shall subscribe their names to this Constitution as an evidence of their willingness to conform to its provisions, before they shall exercise the privilege of membership.

ARTICLE II

The officers of this society shall consist of a President, Vice-President, Corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary, Treasurer, and three Censors, which offices shall all be chosen annually by ballot, at the first stated meeting in each year, at such hour and place as the By-laws may direct; and in default of an election at the annual period, the officers then in place shall continue until another election shall be held in conformity to this article. Vacancies may be filled by special election at any stated meeting of the society, of which the presiding officer shall cause previous public notice to be given.

ARTICLE III

The duty of the President shall be to preside at all the meetings of the society, to preserve order, regulate debates, state and put all questions agreeable to the sense and intention of the members, and to perform such other duties as the By-laws may ordain.

ARTICLE IV

In the absence of the President, his duties shall devolve upon the Vice-President, and in the absence of both, a presiding officer pro tem, shall be appointed, who shall perform the duties of President.

ARTICLE V

The Corresponding Secretary shall manage the correspondence of the society.

ARTICLE VI

The Recording Secretary shall keep correct minutes of all proceedings of the society in a book provided for that purpose. He shall give notice of all meetings and take charge of all books and papers which may be committed to his care, and hand them over to his successor in office.

ARTICLE VII

The Treasurer shall collect all moneys accruing to the society and shall pay the same agreeably to their order certified to him, by the presiding officer for the time being.

He shall keep a regular account of all moneys received and paid out by him as aforesaid, and shall once a year, or oftener if required by the society, exhibit a correct statement of all his receipts and expenditures as Treasurer, and shall deliver up to his successor, all books, papers, moneys, and other property in his custody belonging to the society.

ARTICLE VIII

It shall be the duty of the Censors to examine such applicants for membership as are not graduates in medicine, and report to the society upon their qualifications for membership. Provided, the person be admitted to an examination until he satisfies the Censors that he has faithfully persevered in the study of medicine at least three years, and that he intends honestly and honorably to pursue the calling of his profession.

ARTICLE IX

Every member at the organization of this society, and every member subsequently elected, shall previously to signing this constitution, pay into the hands of the Treasurer the sum of one dollar, and shall annually thereafter, on the first stated meeting in each year, immediately before the election of officers, pay into the hands of the Treasurer the further sum of one dollar, and every member neglecting or refusing to make such annual payment shall, during such neglect or refusal, be deprived of the privilege of membership.

Any member may resign his right of membership on paying the Treasurer all his indebtedness to the society.

ARTICLE X

A stated meeting of the society shall be held quarterly, viz: On the second Monday in the months of April, July, October and January of each year, the meeting in April being the annual meeting. But special meetings may be called by the presiding officer whenever in his judgment, the interest of the society requires them, or when requested so to do by any three members of the society.

ARTICLE XI

Any member may be impeached by three members for professional impropriety or contravening the laws of the society.

The member impeached shall have transmitted to him a copy of his impeachment, and the society shall not act on it for one month after the member has received his notice, then at a stated meeting he may, on ballot, by a vote of two-thirds of the members present be expelled from the society.

ARTICLE XII

This society shall be auxiliary to the Illinois Medical Society and to the American Medical Association, and the code of ethics adopted by the latter shall be the governing rule of the society.

ARTICLE XIII

Any alteration to be made in the Constitution shall be prepared at a stated meeting and entered on the minutes, but shall not be acted on until a subsequent stated meeting, at which not less than seven members shall be present, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary to give previous public notice that an alteration of the Constitution is contemplated at such meeting.

BY-LAWS

1. The order of business of this society shall at all times be subject to the vote of three-fourths of all the members present, and until permanently altered, except when for a time suspended.

- (1.) The Secretary shall read the minutes of the last meeting.
- (2.) Reports from Committees, and the business on the minutes disposed of.
- (3.) Board of Censors report, communications received, and reports of cases presented.
- (4.) New business proposed.
- (5.) Essays produced and read, and essayists appointed.
- (6.) Adjournment.

2. The stated meetings of the society shall be held at such places in the county of McLean as the previous meeting may adjourn to, and the special meetings, at such as may be solicited by the presiding officer calling the same, of which public notice shall be given by the Secretary.

3. Candidates for membership shall be proposed at a stated meeting, but shall not be elected until the next stated meeting unless by unanimous consent of the members present.

4. It shall be the duty of the members to report to this society in writing all remarkable cases of disease coming under their observation, which in their estimation would be beneficial to the Society; to cultivate harmony and good understanding among the profession, and generally to promote its interests according to their several abilities and opportunities.

5. At each stated meeting of the society, the President shall appoint two members to read essays at next meeting, and such members, if not present at the time of their appointment, shall be notified by the Secretary.

6. Five (5) members shall constitute a quorum for business, but a smaller number may adjourn from time to time.

7. The rules for conducting business in the Senate of the United States shall, as far as applicable, be adopted as the rules for regulating the business of this Society.

8. These By-laws may be amended, added to, or repealed at any stated meeting by a two-thirds vote of the members present.

AMENDMENT ADOPTED JANUARY 4, 1875

Presented by Dr. E. W. Gray

There shall be appointed annually, a Standing Committee of five (5) to be known as "The Board of Health of McLean County and City of Bloomington," whose duty it shall be:

1. To organize by appointing a chairman and secretary, and such other sub-committees as they may think needful in the prosecution of their work.

2. To collect as they may be able, such statistics and information relating to the practice of medicine and public hygiene as they may deem valuable to the profession and interesting to the public, provided the society shall not be involved in any expense.

3. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to report progress to the society monthly, which report shall be subjected to criticism and amendment by the society. It shall also be the duty of the Secretary to condense from the information gathered during the year, an annual report, and present the same to the society; such report after due examination shall be filed as part of the medical history of the county.

4. It shall be the duty of the President to appoint each year a delegate to the state society, whose duty it shall be to prepare a suitable exhibit of the doings of the society, and present the same to the state society, as a contribution to the medical literature of the state.

REVISED CONSTITUTION IN FORCE DECEMBER 1, 1904

ARTICLE I

This society shall be called "The McLean County Medical Society," and shall consist of physicians who reside in McLean county, Illinois, or in any of the adjoining counties. The object of this society is the mutual improvement of its members in the art and science of medicine and in social and ethical culture.

ARTICLE II

The officers of the society shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and three Censors, which officers shall be elected by ballot at the meeting in April, which shall be known as the annual meeting.

In default of an election at the annual meeting, the officers shall continue in office until another election, which may be held at any regular meeting of the society, if the members have been previously notified by the secretary of the society. Vacancies may be filled by a special election at any regular meeting of the society, if previous notice has been given of such an election.

ARTICLE III

The duty of the President shall be to preside at meetings of the society, preserve order, state and put all questions and motions agreeable to the statement and intention of members, regulate debates, decide questions and matters in dispute, and perform such other duties as the by-laws may require.

ARTICLE IV

The Vice-President shall perform all the duties of the President in his absence, or when called on by the latter to preside in his place. In the absence of both President and Vice-President a presiding officer pro tempore shall be elected, who shall perform the duties of the President.

ARTICLE V

The Recording Secretary shall keep a correct record of all the transactions of the society in a book provided for the purpose. He shall give notice of all meetings, take charge of books and papers committed to his care, and hand them over to his successor in office.

ARTICLE VI

The Treasurer shall collect all moneys due the society, and pay them out on the order of the society, signed by the President. He shall keep a regular account of all moneys received and paid out by him, and shall once a year, or oftener if required by the society, exhibit a statement of all his receipts and expenditures as Treasurer and shall deliver up to his successor in office all books, papers, moneys and other property in his custody belonging to the society.

ARTICLE VII

Any physician, a resident of McLean county, Illinois, or of any of the adjoining counties, of good moral character, and who is a graduate of a regular college of medicine, recognized by State Board of Health of Illinois as being accredited, may, upon the recommendation of the Censors, be elected a member of the society by receiving the votes of three-fourths of the members present. It shall be the duty of the Censors to carefully examine the professional standing and legal qualifications and moral character of all applicants for membership, and report favorably or unfavorably at the next regular meeting of the society. Any member may honorably withdraw from the society by resigning his membership and paying the Treasurer all his indebtedness to the society.

ARTICLE VIII

Every member of the society shall pay to the Treasurer, at the annual meeting each year, such dues as he may be assessed by the society, and every new member shall pay to the Treasurer one dollar as membership fee before his name is enrolled as a member. Every member neglecting or refusing to pay such dues and fees shall be deprived of all rights and privileges of membership during such refusal or neglect.

ARTICLE IX

A stated meeting of the society will be held monthly, viz: On the first Thursday of each month during the year at such time of day and at such place as the society may choose at the previous meeting.

Special meetings may be called by the President whenever in his judgment the interests of the society require them, or when requested to do so by three members of the society.

ARTICLE X

Any member may be impeached by two members for words or conduct unbecoming a physician or gentleman, or for violating the laws, rules and customs of the medical profession, or of this society. A copy of the impeachment shall be transmitted to the member impeached, and the society shall not act on it for one month after he has received his notice. If found guilty he may be suspended, reprimanded by the President or expelled from the society if two-thirds of the members present vote in favor of the sentence.

ARTICLE XI

This society shall be auxiliary to the Illinois State Medical Society, and to the American Medical Association; and the code of ethics adopted by them is adopted by this society for the guidance and government of its members.

ARTICLE XII

This constitution may be altered or amended, but no alteration or amendment shall be voted on at the meeting at which it is proposed, but at a subsequent meeting at which nine or more members are present, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary to notify the members that a change in the constitution is contemplated at such meeting.

BY-LAWS

1. The order of business of this society shall at all times be subject to the vote of three-fourths of all members present, and until permanently altered, except when for a time suspended.

The regular order of business shall be as follows:

- (1.) Reading the minutes of the last meeting by the Secretary.
- (2.) Reports of committees and unfinished business.
- (3.) Board of Censors' report. Communications received and read. Reports of cases.
- (4.) New business.
- (5.) Essays read and discussed.
- (6.) Essayists appointed for next meeting.
- (7.) Adjournment.

2. The stated meetings of the society shall be held at such places in the county of McLean as the previous meetings may adjourn to, and the special meeting at such as may be selected by the presiding officer calling the same, of which public notice shall be given by the Secretary.

3. Candidates for membership shall be proposed at a stated meeting, but shall not be elected till the next stated meeting unless by unanimous consent of the members present.

4. It shall be the duty of the members to report to the society, in writing, all remarkable cases of disease and injury coming under their observation which in their estimation would be beneficial to the society; to cultivate harmony and good understanding among the profession, and generally to promote its interest according to their several abilities and opportunities.

5. At each stated meeting of the society the President shall appoint two members to read essays at the next meeting, and such members if not present at the time of their appointment shall be notified by the Secretary.

6. All papers read before the society shall become the property of the same and subject to its disposal.

7. Five members shall constitute a quorum for business, but a smaller number may adjourn from time to time.

8. The rules for conducting business in the Senate of the United States shall, as far as applicable, be adopted as the rules for regulating the business of this society.

9. These By-laws may be amended, added to, or repealed at any stated meeting, by a two-thirds vote of the members present. Provided, that such motion shall be made at a stated meeting and lay over until a subsequent stated meeting, each member to have a notice of such motion.

GOLDEN JUBILEE

On the evening of April 7, 1904, "The McLean County Medical Society" celebrated its "Golden Anniversary Banquet" at the Illinois Hotel.

The following members with their wives and daughters were present:

Drs. Bath, Bonnett, Carr, H. S. Chapin, C. E. Chapin, Chapman, Dally, H. W. Elder, G. D. Elder, Fenelon, A. L. Fox, Fulwiler, Foster, Guthrie, Godfrey, Hawks, Hull, Hall, Jackman, Kaeser, Little, Mammen, Meyer, Mullin, J. P. Noble, C. M. Noble, R. A. Noble, Brown, Orner, C. R. Parke, Parkhurst, E. Reedy, A. E. Rogers, Sargent, Shinn, G. R. Smith, J. W. Smith, Lee Smith, E. M. K. Taylor, J. B. Taylor, F. C. Vandervort, Welch, Weiland, R. G. Yolton, J. L. Yolton.

Also the following visitors:

Drs. C. E. Black, President of the State Society; Councilors Newcomb, of Champaign; Barlow, of Robinson; L. J. Harvey, of Griggsville; O. B. Will, of Peoria, and Clark, of Hamilton, Ohio; total, 92.

A delightful repast was served and heartily appreciated by all, after which the President, Dr. F. C. Vandervort, acted as "Toast Master" to which responses were made by Drs. O. B. Will, of Peoria, Illinois; C. R. Parke, of Louisville, Kentucky; W. E. Guthrie and J. B. Taylor, of Bloomington, Illinois.

Medical Golden Jubilees are rare and this one especially will long be remembered by those in attendance.

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE

A Toast Written and Presented by Hattie Morehouse Vandervort at an Early Banquet of the McLean County Medical Society.

Years ago it was said, "It is not good for man to be alone," and what is true of man in general is doubly true of the doctor in particular.

When the new fledged M. D. has finished his studies, chosen his location, hung out his sign, and is waiting patiently - or impatiently it may be as time goes on - for the patients so slow in coming, he has time for thoughts on many subjects, and one is pretty sure to be that of marriage. After a time of hotel boarding and office rooming he begins to think of a partner of joys and sorrows, hopes and fears, success and failure, a silent partner who would make a home for him which would be a much happier place than the one in which he is now living, and really, from a business point of view he readily persuades himself, a doctor ought to be a family man.

Of course the women doctors are not in my subject as they do not need wives.

Well, out of my experience and the fullness thereof, let me tell what sort of a woman the young man should search for.

First, a woman of strong constitution - a doctor's wife must never be sick. He has to hear of people's ailments till his whole head is sick and his heart faint, and when he reaches his haven of rest, he must find only smiles, pleasant themes, good cooking, quiet and peace.

He has been battling with the world's ills; at home he ought to forget that there are any sick people and have a complete change. If our subject lacks in constitution, then she must be the possessor of double powers of endurance and make believe when nature gives out.

All this for the doctor's comfort and a great deal more for outside appearances. No one thinks a doctor's wife has any right to be sick. If she is, the immediate conclusion seems to be that he is a failure as a doctor. Did any of you ladies ever by mistake speak of not feeling well and be caught up by the incredulous look and the awful remark, "And you a doctor's wife?"

Nerves of steel are also necessary. What would a nervous woman do if she should see her husband start off driving a high mettled horse — and after awhile see a man bring his medicine case, laprobe, cushion, etc. and lay them over the fence and say nothing of the cause of all this? This would be especially trying if there was a new baby by her side, not yet a whole week old - but a doctor's wife must not be nervous.

He must visit all sorts of infectious and contagious diseases and she must "get used to it" and "not worry."

Patience in large abundance must she possess; patience with herself and her own short comings of which, if she is a true woman, no one is more conscious than she; patience with the doctor, who will sometimes do imprudent things and foolish things just like any ordinary man; patience with the patients who will many times annoy and perplex her; and more than all with the people at large, who will fire random shots at the doctor's wife they would not dare aim at him or at any man.

Faith also is necessary. One of the hardest things I had to learn was that doctors are not infallible. During my early years our old family physician was held in such high regard in my father's family that to send for the doctor meant sure and speedy relief, and as soon as we saw him coming we felt better - both the sick and the well.

Love - more than all must she love the man who will henceforth be her counselor, friend, companion, and family doctor.

No weakling girl, who would surrender will,
And life, and reason, with her loving heart
To her possessor; - no soft clinging thing
Who would find breath alone within the arms
Of a strong master, and obediently
Wait on his whims, in slavish carefulness; -
No fawning, cringing spaniel, to attend
His royal pleasure, and account herself
Rewarded by his pats and pretty words,
But a round woman, who, with insight keen
Had wrought a scheme of life, and measured well
Her womanhood; had spread before her feet
A fine philosophy to guide her steps;
Had won a faith to which her life was brought
In strict adjustment - brain and heart meanwhile
Working in conscious harmony and rhythm
With the great scheme of God's great universe,
On toward her being's end.

Thus a doctor of old describes his ideal woman, and if our young friend can find such a one - or one capable of growth into such a one - let him not fear to take her for better, for worse until death them doth part.

Some women marry a man to get rid of him. They might well choose a doctor. Invite in a company of friends for a social evening - the telephone will be sure to ring, and the doctor must go five miles in the country. Roads are bad, he gets back just in time to bid the guests good-night. Attend a lecture. Doctor is called away; you may get home the best way you can, alone or with some neighbor who happens to be there.

Two of my most intimate friends are doctors' wives. One complains bitterly of the "aloneness" for which she never planned, and that her husband's pocket book is about all she sees of him. The other with four children does not have so much loneliness to complain of, but she longs sometimes for a little more of her husband's society and time to keep acquainted with him.

A lady told me the other evening, speaking of an old time physician long since dead, that he always tried all his medicines on his wife first before using them in his practice. Of course I said nothing, but I thought of certain bottles on a shelf at home - marked "sample" and wondered if I was a sample case.

Speaking of bottles. Oh dear! What a torment they are! There is not a place in the house too sacred for these same bottles and if you ever dispose of one, that is the very one needed next. All shapes and sizes and colors are ever increasing and accumulating. I wish there was a bottle man like the ragman, who would come and take them away.

Then there are the books, the magazines, the instruments, the medicine cases; no matter if the house is small, she must find a place and room for all. But the skeleton! She must resolutely keep it out of the house, and find not a nook or cranny in home or hearth in which to stow even its shadow away.

When the doctor is sick, it's the hardest time in our lives. He has no faith in doctors - no faith in medicine - he will not stay in bed or keep quiet - and when he is sick at all he is pretty sick. We will pass lightly over this subject - it is too personal - and ask,

"Now what, for all this, do we wives get?" We bear their names, we share their gains, and - this banquet!

BOOK TWO - 1934

This part of the history of the members of the McLean County Medical Society extends over a period of thirty (30) years. It begins where the first history of fifty years ended (1904), and is continued on to the present time (1934).

PREFACE

Bloomington, Illinois, May 8, 1934

To The McLean County Medical Society:

Dear Doctors: Agreeable to your request, the committee consisting of J. Whitefield Smith, A. W. Meyer, and J. H. Fenelon, appointed to write a brief biographical sketch of the members of the McLean County Medical Society whose names have been enrolled during the past thirty (30) years, together with the names of other physicians and surgeons who have practiced medicine in McLean County, who were not members of the society, have the honor to present the following report:

Thirty years ago (1904), Dr. Charles R. Parke, one of the McLean County Medical Society's well known surgeons, who was a charter member of the society, was asked to prepare a history of the organization, and write a biographical sketch of its members, during the fifty (50) years of its progress. Dr. Parke, though living in Louisville, Ky. at the time, undertook the task with great earnestness, and fidelity of purpose; and gave us a comprehensive and concise history of the medical society, during the first half century of its existence. The society will always be grateful and appreciative for this valuable service.

The report which is hereby submitted is the result of a persistent effort to gather all the data available in order that we might continue the history of the McLean County Medical Society over a period of the last thirty (30) years to the present time (1934). We realize that there are unavoidable errors and mistakes in this tabulation. However, the committee has endeavored to fulfill its obligation, from the information obtainable, at least, in an acceptable manner. We desire to thank the members of the society and all of those who have assisted in the collection of the data, for their cooperation which has, in a large measure, made this history possible.

COMMITTEE

THE McLEAN COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

1854 - 1934

In the march of civilization, history records the steps of our progress.

The history of the McLean County Medical Society is an interesting chapter in the growth and development of the history of the county. A quarter of a century before the organization of the Society, we find the pioneer physicians, true to the spirit of their profession, striving to protect the lives, the health, and the happiness of the early settlers. Not only this, but we find them assisting in the various organizations of the local government, and engaged in the development of the institutional life of the community.

The lives of the pioneer physicians were characterized by a rugged simplicity, a resolute spirit, and an untiring energy. These men were courageous, chivalrous, resourceful. They were men of sterling qualities. It is not a matter of wonder or surprise that the McLean County Medical Society, born of such lives and characters, should occupy such an important place in the history of the county during the past years. Such was its heritage. The spirit of the pioneer physicians has been impressed on the medical profession of this county for at least three generations.

Since the organization of the society in the spring of 1854, its members have kept pace with the progress of medicine and surgery. The growth of the society has been contemporaneous with the great discoveries in medical science for nearly a century. The McLean County Medical Society has been honored many times by the capable services of its members; not alone for their professional qualifications, but for the public services its members have rendered the county, state, and nation. Some have served in the State Legislature; one has been appointed United States Consul; many have served as presidents of the Illinois State Medical Society; others were superintendents, or chief medical directors in a number of our state institutions; while others have held official positions on the State Board of Health.

As we look backward, we behold a galaxy of distinguished men and women of this society upholding the banners of the profession. We see the chaplets of their victories, the garlands of their triumphs, the laurels of their achievements. They have served their day and generation. We cherish their memory, and desire to perpetuate their names in the records of this brief history. And, as we look forward, we see their mantles falling upon a group of younger physicians; for we take up our work where others have labored and toiled — we lay it down for another to take up. The continued progress and success of the McLean County Medical Society will be determined, largely, by its heritage from the past, and by the attainments of its physicians and surgeons of today. When another chapter of its history is written, it will be of more interest and value, because of the larger opportunities, the greater accomplishments, and the grander achievements that will be made in the future, which appear already on the horizon of the present day.

COMMITTEE

THE EIGHTIETH ANNIVERSARY AND BANQUET

The McLean County Medical Society

May Eighth

Thirty years ago, the McLean County Medical Society celebrated its "Golden Jubilee" (April 7, 1904). This evening (May 8, 1934) the Society gathered into the banquet hall of the Illinois Hotel on a similar occasion. The Doctors at that time were accompanied by their wives and a number of friends, and after the banquet an interesting program was furnished by the entertainment committee.

On this event, the eightieth anniversary of the Society, the Doctors, their wives, and invited guests enjoyed the entertainment and the banquet which was served at the Illinois Hotel. The banquet room was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Frequent reference was made to the Golden Jubilee many years ago —

"O years gone down into the past, what pleasant memories come to me."

Dr. James C. McNutt, president of the McLean County Medical Society, acted as toastmaster. After a short business session, he introduced several of the members of the Society, who spoke in an interesting manner on the object, the work, and the achievements of the Society.

The honor guest and principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Logan Clendening of Kansas City, Missouri.

Not all of the members of the Society were present at this anniversary: the names of all the members of the Society are printed below, in order to keep a record of the membership at this time (1934).

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL

Bloomington, Illinois

In the founding of St. Joseph's Hospital, a large measure of credit is due the Rev. Father Schreiber, pastor of the St. Mary's Church. At his suggestion in 1879 the Rev. Mother Frances of St. Francis Hospital of Peoria visited Bloomington with the view of establishing a Branch Hospital here.

Dr. John Sweeney and Dr. Chas. Parke were then consulted in reference to the undertaking, and agreed to lend assistance. Dr. Sweeney, in company with Sisters and friends of the order, later made a house to house canvass of Bloomington and succeeded in obtaining sufficient funds to make the first payment on the property where the hospital is located. This property is a 7-acre tract near the center of which stood the Waddell home, an old brick mansion, and here the St. Joseph Hospital started on its long and successful career on the 22nd day of March, 1880.

The institution was incorporated at once, and its ownership and control was vested in the Mother Superior of Third Order of St. Francis of Peoria and her successors in office. Neither man nor church have the authority to interfere with her in her vested rights.

Now, four Sisters were placed in charge of the institution and they selected Dr. Parke to organize a staff. He appointed Dr. A. H. Luce, Dr. John Sweeney, Dr. T. F. Worrell, Dr. William Elder, Dr. R. Wunderlich, and Dr. Lee Smith as members of the first staff.

In 1883 it became necessary to add more space, and a new building was constructed in connection with the old structure, which then became the residence and chapel for the Sisters.

In 1888 a substantial addition was built, and the following year a new chapel added at an expense of $10,000. Having entirely outgrown the quarters, in 1908 the large east wing was added to the building, and in 1920 it was necessary to add a west wing still larger.

The hospital as it now stands has a capacity of over 300 beds. It is strictly modern, the rooms are attractively furnished, and the equipment is the very best including up to date laboratories, diet kitchens, x-ray, hydrotherapy, and electrotherapy. The operating rooms are of the highest order, and there are delivery rooms and special obstetric department. A special ward for children and sun parlors are provided, and a fully equipped Psychopathic ward.

In 1926 a handsome three-story nurses' home was built to house the Nurses' Training School which was established in 1921. This institution has graduated 93 nurses, and has a capacity of 60 beds.

The St. Joseph's Hospital does not discriminate in taking patients. All races and creeds, the rich and poor alike, find its doors open to them if they are sick and afflicted. Its charity is without ostentation. More than 12% of its patients have been treated entirely on charity, and many more on part charity. Countless meals have been given to the hungry poor — none are ever turned from the door.

THE BROKAW HOSPITAL

Normal, Illinois

The Brokaw Hospital got its initial start from some members of the McLean County Medical Society. In the fall of 1894 and the spring of 1895 a group of medical men met to consider the question of a new hospital. After a great deal of discussion, five doctors resolved to continue in this new enterprise, and each subscribed five hundred dollars ($500.00) as a starting fund for the purpose of purchasing ground, buildings, and equipment. These men were Dr. J. L. White, Dr. D. H. Nusbaum, Dr. M. D. Hull, Dr. C. M. Noble, and Dr. Ernest Mammen.

The first consideration was to secure a desirable site or location, provide the necessary buildings, and furnish the proper equipment. The next procedure was to obtain a suitable management for conducting the affairs of this hospital. After much investigation, the present location was acquired from Mr. Henry Danforth of Washington, Illinois, for a consideration of six thousand dollars ($6,000.00). The above mentioned doctors having secured the contract, Mr. Paul Moratz, architect, drew sketches and plans for the buildings.

The original building was completed and opened for patients in 1896. It was under the management of the Mennonite Deaconess Nurses with Rev. John A. Sprunger in charge. It continued under this management until August, 1897, when it was taken over by the Methodist Episcopal Deaconess society of Chicago, and operated until the year 1901. At this time the name of the hospital was changed to Brokaw Hospital.

Mr. Abraham Brokaw and his wife became interested in the hospital in 1901, and contributed considerable financial aid. In 1903 he placed a fund of $30,000.00 at the disposal of three trustees for the benefit of the hospital, and later provided in his will a further endowment of $100,000.00 and 320 acres of valuable farm lands. The several bequests made by him to the hospital have aggregated more than $200,000.00. Mr. Brokaw died in 1905.

In January, 1902, the directors of Brokaw Hospital established a training school for nurses, incorporated under the title of the Brokaw Hospital School for Nurses. This school offers to women desirous of becoming professional nurses, a course of practical and theoretical instruction. The curriculum provides a three-years' course which fully meets the requirements of the State Registration Board of Nurses. The training school is under the efficient management of its superintendent, Miss Maude F. Essig. Miss Macie N. Knapp has been the general superintendent of the hospital for the past ten years, and under her capable management and skillful direction, the hospital has shown great progress in realizing its ideal of usefulness and service.

The location comprises eight acres of rolling ground with a beautiful campus, delightful terraces, walks and gardens. There are three buildings with a capacity of one hundred and one hospital beds. In 1909 a separate building was erected for a nurses' home which provides for the needs and recreation of the nurses when not on duty. The average number in the Training School for Nurses is about thirty-five. The staff of physicians and surgeons number twenty-six. The staff holds regular meetings to discuss clinical and scientific matters of interest to its members, and of benefit to the hospital. Brokaw Hospital shares with the hospitals of Bloomington and Normal a public service of inestimable value, not alone to the citizens of the cities in which they are located, but also to the large groups of individuals of adjoining communities.

THE MENNONITE HOSPITAL

Bloomington, Illinois

The Mennonite Hospital Association was incorporated in January, 1919. Its organization was the actual expression of the general religious conviction that ministering to the physically ill, whether rich or poor and regardless of creed, is an important function of the church.

As early as 1893 there was in many Mennonite churches intense interest in this humanitarian endeavor, and under the leadership of Rev. John A. Sprunger they assisted materially in the organization of the Mennonite Deaconess Hospital. The Mennonite groups, however, were scattered and with no organization to hold them together, their activities but not their interest soon languished. Interest in this work grew and resulted in an informal meeting early in the summer of 1918 of representatives of a number of the churches for the discussion of the advisability of the church establishing a Mennonite Hospital. The interest in the proposal was so encouraging that other meetings followed, and the Mennonite Hospital Association with representatives from Mennonite churches was formed. The first officers were: Rev. E. Troyer, President; Rev. J. H. King, Secretary; and John Kinsinger, Treasurer. The next January the organization was incorporated. The first board of directors was as follows: Rev. E. Troyer, Rev. J. H. King, Rev. Allen Miller, and Rev. Benjamin Rupp.

The first officers in charge of the hospital were in addition to the above named President and Secretary: Rev. B. Rupp, Superintendent; Miss Florence Burgess, Superintendent of Nurses; and Mrs. Mollie Flint, Surgical Supervisor.

The standing of the local medical profession and the co-operative attitude of prominent physicians was the decisive factor in influencing the Association to decide to establish the proposed hospital in Bloomington. The John Harber property at 1308 N. Main Street was purchased and plans were prepared for the construction of a new building on the large lot. It was decided to make a very modest beginning in the large three story house already on the lot. This three story residence was remodeled, and a medical staff with Dr. E. P. Sloan as chief of staff was organized and nurses were secured.

The first patients were admitted for treatment on May 1, 1919. An urgent need for more room was almost at once evident. In January of the next year the Association, instead of building a new building, purchased the building and equipment known as the Kelso Sanitarium at 807 N. Main Street. Again the facilities for service were found to be inadequate, and a movement was inaugurated to replace the frame building with a modern fireproof building of larger proportions. In January, 1932, a new wing of the hospital was opened and the capacity of the hospital was increased to seventy-eight.

An accredited Nurses' Training School has been maintained since 1920. One hundred and nine nurses have been graduated, and of these twenty-eight have occupied executive positions in hospitals since their graduation.

Since the first year, when only fifty patients were cared for, there have been more than fifteen thousand cases admitted for treatment, and nine thousand operations performed. The medical staff through its organization has contributed largely to the development of the hospital program and now has a membership of forty-three practicing physicians.

FAIRVIEW SANATORIUM

Normal, Illinois

At the beginning of this century the results of bacteriological studies were expressed by better treatment of tuberculosis cases. To get cooperation among the people a great deal of education was necessary.

The trained nurse was a product mainly of the demand for carrying out modern discoveries in medicine. At that time the white plague was everywhere. It took a toll of one hundred and eighteen people in this county one year. This fact was used as an argument for the establishment of a sanatorium, for it had become evident that tuberculosis patients could not be successfully treated except in an institution. There was no unanimity as to how this could be brought about. The state had passed no law enabling counties to maintain sanatoria, so to get action on the part of the people fundamental education was necessary.

There existed in this city an Anti-tuberculosis Association. This association purchased a tent which would seat about seventy-five people. Ten of our doctors united in giving lectures to the people in this tent. It was set up in the southeast part of the city for one week, during which doctors lectured every evening on the diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis.

Mr. Edmund O'Connell was engaged to secure a law which would authorize counties to raise money, purchase grounds, and to build sanatoria. He was posted in legislative matters, and soon the legislature passed a proper bill giving us a law under which we are now working. Then it was necessary to get a vote of the people in favor of a sanatorium for this county. Urging this on, the names of Doctors J. B. Taylor, W. H. Gardner, F. H. Godfrey, E. Mammen, and T. D. Cantrell appear as very active in trying to influence the votes of the supervisors appearing before them at different times. Finally the supervisors voted on the question and defeated it. The doctors continued to carry on the propaganda by lectures in school houses, in churches, and otherwise.

The first vote was taken about 1908. The vote of the people authorizing the supervisors to favor the establishment of a sanatorium was taken March 7, 1910. In the resolutions passed by the supervisors occurs this sentence: "There is no question of the need of a tuberculosis sanatorium for the use of the people of this county, and, although we deplore the necessity, it is our duty to see the situation as it really is, and to establish a sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis."

A committee was then appointed as the law provided, and Doctor C. M. Noble, member of the McLean County Medical Society, was made a member of that committee.

The supervisors decided to purchase, in March, 1917, forty acres lying northwest of Normal for fifteen thousand dollars, and proceeded to erect a building properly adapted to the methods of treatment necessary for the cure of tuberculosis. This was an institution at which all legal residents of McLean County were entitled to receive treatment free of charge.

We have now had it in operation about a quarter of a century. It has cost something, but the money spent is a trifle compared to the results attained. The death rate which was 118 per annum has been reduced to 34 for 1933, so that many lives have been saved and many others made happier by treatment.

The Fairview Sanatorium has proven to be the best investment McLean County ever made for the benefit of its people's health.

BOOK THREE - 1954

This part of the history of the
McLean County Medical Society extends over a period of twenty years — 1934 to 1954.

PREFACE

Bloomington, Illinois - January, 1954

To the McLean County Medical Society

Dear Doctors:

To carry on the work already compiled by former committees, the present committee which includes Dr. Fred W. Brian, Dr. Robert G. Price, and Dr. Howard P. Sloan, presents to you the One Hundredth Anniversary Edition of the History of the McLean County Medical Society. The original history of 1904 and the second volume published in 1934 compose the first two parts in the present edition. To these have been added the historical record of the past twenty years, 1934-1954, thus forming a continuous hundred years' history of the Society.

A number of doctors, whose biographical sketches appeared in the 1934 edition, are still practicing at the present time. Their biographies have been brought up-to-date and incorporated in the 1954 edition.

In an intricate history of this kind, errors may occur, but we trust that the information we present herewith has been, on the whole, accurately tabulated from the material we have gathered. We wish to thank all the individual members of the Society who have helped in furnishing the data from which this history has been compiled.

Our McLean County doctors of today have traveled a long way in the knowledge of medicine and the art of healing since the pioneer doctor of a hundred years ago. One wonders if the doctors of one hundred years hence will consider the doctors of today as pioneers also in the long history of medical research.

THE COMMITTEE

HISTORICAL SKETCH

Now one hundred years encompass the McLean County Medical Society. For an entire century the welfare and health of the men, women, and children of this community have been in the hands of the members of this Society, and it is inspiring to read in this new biographical history of the lives of those who dedicated themselves to this honored profession of healing.

Everyone reveres the memory of the pioneer doctor with his devotion to duty. Even though the science of medicine was within its cradle-of-being during his lifetime, his courageous character and his spiritual longing to heal was deathless, or should we say, that only death could interrupt his profession?

Following the pioneer doctor and further along in the advance of medicinal science appears the "doctor of the old school." Ignorance is still to the fore, but great scientific discoveries as exemplified by the names of Pasteur, Liston, and later Osler, are just on the horizon. The doctors of this era were conscious of their incompetence, but their sense of dedication to the task of developing future revelations in the field of medicine was still abiding.

In our own time we remember the doctor of the early 1900's. A list of prominent names in our Society during the first decade of the 1900's bring to our memory Drs. C. E. Chapin, F. C. Vandervort, J. W. Smith, R. A. Noble, A. L. Fox, F. H. Godfrey, O. M. Rhodes, Ernest Mammen, W. H. Gardner, J. K. P. Hawks, E. B. Hart, E. P. Sloan, L. B. Cavins, F. C. McCormick, and A. W. Meyer. All have passed on, leaving an enviable record of their ability and the excellent work they accomplished.

The First World War found many McLean County doctors in its ranks. The following saw active service in the army, navy, and sea duty: Drs. Harry Howell, R. A. Noble, Wilfred Gardner, A. E. Rogers, T. D. Cantrell, J. K. P. Hawks, L. B. Cavins, Frank Sayers, Fred W. Brian, F. C. Vandervort, G. H. Galford, W. W. Gailey, L. L. Irwin, E. A. Behrendt, A. J. Casner, J. L. Yolton, H. W. Elder, W. L. Penniman, D. D. Raber, A. R. Freeman, Paul Greenleaf, C. E. Shultz, Frank Deneen. Several others remained at home to serve on the Board of Examiners.

Not only on the war front but on the home front were the doctors selflessly on guard against disease and death. The influenza epidemic of this period was most severe and the remaining physicians did a heroic job administering their services to the afflicted.

The chapter on public health is a courageous one. Each innovation meant the long, tiring attempt by the medical profession to educate the public and their representatives in the legislature and in the city government to bring about the reforms that would protect present and future generations. Long quarantine laws for small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, and fumigation methods of those days have all passed by, so that today with immunization procedures routinely given to young children, these diseases plus whooping cough and tetanus, have almost been eradicated. The young physician today rarely has the opportunity to see such cases. Poliomyelitis, measles, chicken pox, and mumps now remain as the major problems for the health department.

The concluding paragraph in the 1934 historical sketch in this book was prophetic. The young doctors of 1934 are the older doctors of today. The "larger opportunities, the greater accomplishments, the grander achievements" which those sentences foretell, did indeed come to pass, and it is the younger doctors of that day who helped to bring them to fulfillment. Here in McLean County today are physicians and surgeons who have achieved greatly; a few are world renowned. All have taken full advantage of their inheritance and have kept faith with their pioneer predecessors.

How far they have traveled! From "two courses of lectures of five months each" and a "reading knowledge of the English language" the present day doctor must have four years of college preparation, four years of medical school, besides a year of internship. Thus the medical road of the modern doctor, though in a different fashion, is as rugged, perhaps, as that of the pioneer. Even though he does not die of over-exhaustion in fighting the elements just to reach his patients, look at the number of modern physicians who succumb to heart attacks. The physician's life is a dedicated one, despite its hardships.

And now, indeed, the world of medical science has grown up. In one hundred years we have passed from cough medicine to the iron lung. Poliomyelitis, especially, in the acute stage, is far from being conquered. A wooden respirator made by the employes of the Eureka Williams Company in Bloomington has saved the lives of many throughout the world. "Popular Mechanics" magazine, the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, together with modern television carried on the publicity internationally, giving Bloomington and St. Joseph's Hospital credit for such an emergency instrument. Bloomington also was made one of the downstate Polio centers for treatment and management of the acute cases, and for the monthly out patient clinics under the Division of Services for Crippled Children of the University of Illinois. A cerebral palsy treatment and education unit in conjunction with the Illinois State Normal University has been in action at the St. Joseph's Hospital since 1951. Federal and state funds were received to help build a new wing to the Pediatric Department at St. Joseph's Hospital to be used for the cerebral palsy unit. The Special Education Department of the Illinois State Normal University with its new building has aided tremendously the problem of education of the handicapped child. Bloomington and McLean County are most fortunate to have such a renowned school in its midst.

The older doctors of yesterday could never imagine the changes in the type of practice the young man sees today. Mastoid, surgery, empyema of the lungs, abdominal infections, pneumonia, meningitis, acute upper respiratory infections, and typhoid fever under treatment with the wonder drugs of today are diseases cured and the patient home from the hospital in a matter of seven to ten days or less, with rarely any remaining complications. Sulfa drugs in 1936, penicillin in 1944, aureomycin, terramycin, chloromycetin, dihydrostreptomycin and others too numerous to mention, with many in the making, will no doubt continue to save many lives while at the same time these are being replaced by more valuable ones. Malaria and tuberculosis are also almost completely under control.

Hormones such as ACTH and cortisone have changed entirely the field of arthritis, rheumatic fever and allergy. What these fields alone have in store for us no one actually would dare to predict. Atomic medicine is in its mere infancy and seems a dream too fantastic to realize now.

Yet psychiatry and its branches bring untold and unpredicted problems still unconquered. In other words, medical science seems to have passed what the human mind can control. The physicians of tomorrow have an enviable yet worrisome world ahead of them which will still require training and the diligent and honest work of each and every one. Specialized medicine, we hope, will still remain conquered. To lose the personal contact and confidence of the patient and doctor relationship, one can't help but feel, would be disastrous.

Who knows what wonders the next one hundred years will bring? The young doctors of yesterday, who are the older doctors of today, again spread their mantle over a group of young physicians who are just starting on their life's work. They will carry on the achievements that a century of McLean county doctors have fostered to this day. They will become the physicians and surgeons of tomorrow. The future is unpredictable. From now on, another history, no doubt, should never go past a ten year period.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY of the McLEAN COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

In 1927 the Illinois State Medical Society decided that a Woman's Auxiliary would be desirable. The organization was completed, and Mrs. G. Henry Mundt, wife of the president of the State Medical Society, was chosen as president of the new organization. Dr. Harold M. Camp, secretary of the State Medical Society, sent a letter to the secretaries of the various county societies asking that the medical societies organize the women in the counties.

Acting upon that suggestion, Dr. Ralph P. Peairs, secretary of the McLean County Medical Society, brought the matter before the local medical society. The medical society approved the plan and authorized Dr. Frank Deneen, the president, and Dr. Peairs, the secretary, to invite the wives of the physicians to a luncheon for the purpose of forming an auxiliary. About twenty-five ladies responded and attended the luncheon which was held at the Y. W. C. A. in September, 1927. Mrs. Mundt, the state president, and Miss Jean McArthur, secretary of the educational committee of the State Medical Society, attended the meeting and were instrumental in organizing the McLean County Medical Society Auxiliary. McLean county was the first county in Illinois to form such an auxiliary.

A nominating committee was selected and reported at a later meeting. Mrs. Myra S. Peairs was elected as the president of the group. The women were active as delegates to the state and county meetings, sold the health magazine "Hygeia" and had many interesting speakers for their monthly programs. The organization continued until 1940, when it disbanded.

The present auxiliary was formed in May, 1949, with an advisory committee from the McLean County Medical Society present, and approving the action. The group's main project has been the establishment of Student Nurse Loan Funds available to students in St. Joseph's, Mennonite, and Brokaw Hospitals' schools of nursing.

The members of the Auxiliary have continued to sell a health publication "Today's Health"; assist once a month at the immunization clinic at Raymond School; keep informed of current legislation affecting the medical profession through the A. M. A. newsletters; and contribute financially to the Crippled Children's Camp held each summer, and to the State Benevolence Fund. The monthly meetings of the Auxiliary during 1954 will be centered around the National Auxiliary's program theme — "Know Your Community."

The officers of the Auxiliary elected May 3, 1949, at the time of the reorganization were: President, Mrs. Eugene Taylor; vice-president, Mrs. Edwin Rypins; secretary, Mrs. Gordon Shultz; treasurer, Mrs. George France. Present officers of 1954 are: President, Mrs. Stanley Nord; president-elect, Mrs. Harold Shinall; vice-president, Mrs. J. L. Bailen; secretary, Mrs. Preston Houk; treasurer, Mrs. John France.

MENNONITE HOSPITAL EYE BANK

Established by

The Watson Gailey Eye Foundation

The Watson Gailey Eye Foundation was established by Dr. Watson Gailey of the Gailey Eye Clinic in 1948 as a non-profit organization having for its purpose the channeling of funds into the organization for improving the quality of ophthalmology; the education of the blind and partially blind; the education of teachers who wish to take up their profession as instructors for partially-sighted children; the education of deserving medical students, most particularly those who are taking up ophthalmology as their life work; the sponsoring under the direction of the McLean County Health Department of the first free eye clinic for indigent families whose children need glasses and eye care (the clinic being in operation two years); and the establishment of an Eye Bank for the purpose of furnishing human eyes for transplant operations to ophthalmological surgeons throughout our state for the purpose of sight restoration.

The date, August 7, 1952, marked an epoch in ophthalmological surgery in Bloomington, Illinois. The first operation for corneal transplant, which was done in downstate Illinois, was performed on this date at the Mennonite Hospital by Albert C. Frell, M. D., a member of the Gailey Eye Clinic staff. The eye was furnished by the Foundation Eye Bank.

The Eye Bank is now in its second year of operation. Up to the present time, ten of these corneal transplants have been operated upon. The results have been quite gratifying and the visual improvement has been considerable in each instance. The donor eye has been obtained from several sources, viz: The Buffalo, New York Eye Bank, The Chicago Eye Bank under the management of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, and from Bloomington physicians who have convinced the family of the deceased person that it would be a wonderfully generous gesture to permit the donor's eyes to be enucleated within two hours following death.

The eyes from Buffalo are flown to Peoria by the Eastern Airlines where the container is picked up by the local Red Cross and delivered to the Eye Bank at Mennonite Hospital. All of this excellent service is done without charge, through the generosity of the president of Eastern Airlines - Mr. Eddie Rickenbacker.

At the present time the patient waiting list who would be benefitted by the corneal transplant is considerably in excess of twenty.

Unquestionably this surgical procedure bids fair toward becoming more and more an instrument in returning sight to thousands of cases throughout the states, when more surgeons learn this technique.

MEMORIAL LIBRARY OF THE McLEAN COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

The Memorial Library is located in a pleasant room on the basement floor of the new annex to the Mennonite Hospital. The room is equipped with glass enclosed bookcases, an enclosed built-in file case for medical journals, a long reading table, and ten large arm chairs upholstered in red leather.

For many years the collection of books owned by the medical society was housed in the Withers Public Library. On February 8, 1937, at the regular meeting of the society, a motion was made and duly seconded and carried that the medical books belonging to the society be transferred from the Withers Public Library to a room in the Illinois Wesleyan University where they would be catalogued and accessible to any member of the society. Shortly after this the library became inactive.

On June 10, 1947, during the meeting of the society, Dr. A. E. Livingston made a motion that a county medical library be established at Mennonite Hospital. Dr. E. M. Stevenson moved that the library be called the Memorial Library. The library was created at this time through the generous contributions of individual members of the medical society.

The present collection of books consists of year books on different medical subjects; many files of medical journals; about two hundred fifty new and standard books on medical science; and a complete series of "The Index Medicus" (Quarterly Cumulative Index of the A.M.D.). On November 14, 1950, the McLean County Medical Society moved that an annual budget of $250.00 be allowed for the maintenance of the Memorial Library. Many of the volumes are donated in memory of deceased members of the society, and members of the community at large.

Dr. A. Edward Livingston has been chairman of the Library Committee since its creation in 1947. The committee selects new books, either through direct suggestions by medical society members or through knowledge of current publications. Books and non-current journals may be taken out of the library by society members provided they sign a card of information.

The Library Committee encourages donations to the library, especially in memory of former members, but also of any one who might have appreciated such a memorial.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL, 1934 - 1954

Historical Sketch

Following the completion and occupation of the Nurses' Residence in January of 1929, no major construction was undertaken for the next two decades. Rather, the twenty years of the '30's and '40's were devoted to improving present facilities.

A number of steps have been taken to facilitate patient care and nursing service. In 1939 the private duty nurses adopted the eight hour day. During the war years nursing service took on new importance which it has not relinquished. The training of the large nurse cadet corps in 1944; refresher courses conducted for graduate nurses; training of volunteer nurse aides and the Gray Ladies; all were instituted as a part of the war program.

In 1939, St. Joseph's Hospital along with other hospitals was designated a depository for the "new wonder drug" penicillin. Fourteen years later, gamma globulin was the scarce drug and slated for careful distribution.

With the gradual return of our doctors from military to civilian status, the hospital was able to develop departments long marked for progress. In 1946, the Radiology service consisted of two sisters, one of whom was a registered technician, one student technician, and a part time secretary. A total of 4,426 procedures of which some 3,385 were X-rays, 363 fluoroscopes, and 678 X-ray treatments was the record. Today, under the department's present direction, a staff headed by a radiologist has two registered technicians, four student technicians, and a full time secretary. They do some 9,724 procedures — 6,679 X-rays, 825 fluoroscopes, 2,220 treatments. The out patient department has tripled in seven years. The service was recently expanded to occupy five rooms on the second floor of the hospital. Equipment includes G. E. X-ray for diagnosis and treatment, a motor driven radiological table, a spot film device attached to the fluoroscope. The cystoscopic room has been equipped with the latest model table. St. Joseph's Hospital, Department of Radiology, received authorization from the United States Atomic Energy Commission for the procurement of radio active isotopes on May 25, 1953. This authorization applies to the use of Iodine 131 for the diagnosis of thyroid function.

Paralleling the development of the Radiological Department is that of the Pathological Laboratory. In 1946 the present director established the blood bank, the first such depository in this section of the state. Through the years, the laboratory has grown not only in size but also in skills. In 1943 routine tissue examinations were first started. From an average of 1000 tests per month at its inception, the laboratory now does 10,000. In the eight years the school for technicians has been in existence, fifty students have been graduated. These students are working in the other hospitals of the community as well as some of the doctors' clinics of the two towns. The laboratory now occupies the south wing on A floor of the hospital, in rooms recently redecorated and with equipment comparable to that of larger laboratories. Probably the outstanding feature of the laboratory is the excellent quality of the biochemistry section.

St. Joseph's Hospital's registered pharmacist, Sister M. Veneranda, has, during her nine years' tenure, planned and carried out the refitting of the drug room with modern cases, sink, and proper refrigeration for the storage and distribution of drugs.

In 1946 the polio ward was established. Standard equipment consists of two iron lungs, a portable respirator and the famous wooden lung, the Eureka-Williams model, built in a single night by men of the factory for use during the 1949 epidemic. This "lung" has had wide publicity. It was approved by the Council on Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation. An article on its use appeared in the February 17, 1951 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association. Specifications for its construction have appeared in national magazines. This department in cooperation with the physical therapy department has helped many post polio patients back to normal living.

The physical therapy department occupies the entire west side of the south wing on 100 floor. It is strategically situated adjacent to the polio ward. Under the direction of a qualified registered physical therapist, the department cares for referral cases as well as post polio, cerebral palsy, and orthopedic cases. The department has the usual electro and hydro therapy machines as well as the Hubbard tank.

Late in 1949, and 1950 the hospital chapel was remodeled, redecorated, and refurnished. The rededication service was held in March of 1950. This achievement, under the administration of Sister M. Celine was a proud accomplishment for all the Sisters of the St. Francis community.

Along with other hospitals of Bloomington-Normal in 1951, St. Joseph's-Hospital undertook the reorganization of its staff to conform to the standards of the American College of Surgeons. As a result of this effort the hospital has full approval of the American College of Surgeons and is also approved by the American Medical Association and the American Hospital Association of Chicago.

The spring of 1951 also marked the organization of the hospital's first Woman's Auxiliary. The organization chose for its project the Cerebral palsy unit and subsequently has been very active in raising funds. A gift shop is maintained off the reception room at the hospital, the proceeds going to the Cerebral Palsy fund.

In January, 1952, the Cerebral Palsy Unit was officially opened with temporary quarters on 500 floor. This department, third of its kind in the state, is under the direction of the Department of Welfare of the State of Illinois and of the Special Education Department of I. S. N. U. It is devoted to the rehabilitation of educable Cerebral Palsy children. The department is gradually building up the necessary orthopedic, physical, and occupational therapy equipment so essential for treatment in cases of this type. The department will be permanently housed in the new building in the fall of 1953.

In the early part of 1953 the Doctors' lounge was moved across the hall to the front of the building permitting their old quarters to be added to the Record Library. With Sister Cyriaca, registered medical librarian, and a staff of four typists, the record library now handles dictation from phone connections at strategic stations throughout the hospital. These larger quarters provide ample space for the filing systems.

It has long been the policy of St. Joseph's Hospital to keep the hospital efficient by adding new equipment. This necessitates constant changes and long range planning. New O.B. and O.R. tables, incubator; washers and dryers for the laundry; kitchens and diet therapy quarters renovated; conversion of the heating unit from coal to oil burners; incinerator, sprinkler system, and electrical changes are some of these. In 1953 the hospital was partially rewired and a new electrical panel and substation installed. The hospital contains two hundred thirty-five beds plus thirty beds in the new addition.

In July, 1952, a new service was created, that of public health co-ordinator. This is a direct effort for follow up care of the patient. In this connection a series of expectant parents' classes and pre-natal clinics are conducted.

The new wing of the hospital, extending north west from the present west section is scheduled for completion in 1953. This unit devoted to convalescent patients will also house the Cerebral Palsy Department and Crippled Children's Clinic. Modern in every respect, with piped oxygen, solarium, and furnishings it is planned to accommodate twenty-eight patients. When the move is accomplished, hospital authorities look forward to the expansion of the present Pediatric Department.

The School of Nursing, a vital part of the hospital program, has been under the leadership of only two directors in the past twenty years. Sister M. Theddea served from 1933 - 1939. During this period Sodality and Student-Faculty government were formed. Dramatics and the student newspaper were activities of the school. Sister M. Loyola, 1939 to date, has seen marked progress in nursing education. The school is now listed in the temporarily approved list 1953 by the National Accreditation Agency. The school has had affiliation with DePaul University of Chicago, Peoria State Hospital for psychiatry, and Illinois State Normal University for physical and biological sciences. In recent years the school and community have been more closely united under the Nursing School Committee.

All of these developments during the past twenty years have taken place under the guidance of four administrators; Sister M. Cecelia, 1936-1942; Sister M. Brigitta, 1942-1945; Sister M. Celine, 1945-1951, and the present Superior Sister M. Bonaventura, 1951 - to date.

BROKAW HOSPITAL, 1934 - 1954

Historical Sketch

Brokaw Hospital's efforts in behalf of the ill and hurt of the community have continued since 1895, and recent decades have permitted its building expansion program to materialize in a real way. Progress has also been made in accreditation with the American College of Surgeons. The year 1936 was the first year when full approval by this group was given. Brokaw Hospital has had full approval since that date, the medical staff being reorganized in 1947 to conform with standards.

In 1934 Brokaw Hospital had ninety-six beds and a staff of twenty-six doctors. The present picture of Brokaw Hospital in 1954 offers a different aspect, as the building now includes one hundred twenty beds, and the staff numbers sixty-three doctors and fifty-six nurses. In the project for expansion, Dr. Herman Smith of Chicago was the consultant on building plans, and Schaeffer, Hooton and Wilson were the architects.

A program of fund-raising was begun in the fall of 1948, and under the leadership of George A. Washburn, now deceased, the original goal was reached. Due to increased building costs, the effort to raise money has been continued, and at the present time popular subscriptions from Bloomington-Normal and McLean County total an approximate $1,100,000.00. W. A. Matheson is general chairman of the campaign.

During 1951-1953 the new four-story wing of the hospital was constructed with a total outlay of more than a million dollars. The building activities were launched on October 11, 1951, with breaking-of-ground ceremonies. The wing was completed, and open house was held on June 11-14, 1953. Patients were moved into the new hospital on July 15, 1953.

The new facilities consist primarily of a four-story wing which includes a new laundry, kitchen, dining-rooms, business offices, emergency room, sixty-six new rooms for patients, and a chapel where the nurses hold their 6:45 A. M. daily devotions. A call system with microphone equipment has been installed for instant communication between patient and nurse. The patients' rooms are light and spacious, decorated in cheerful colors, and equipped with built-in dresser, wardrobe, toilet and lavatory. A supply of oxygen is piped to each room. Future plans call for the construction of a one-story surgical wing which would bring all administrative and out-patient services, including surgical, X-ray and laboratory, to the ground floor of the hospital with all nursing service on the three floors above.

The administrators of Brokaw Hospital for the past twenty years have been — Miss Macie Knapp, 1934-1938; Miss Maude F. Essig, 1938-1939; Miss Helen Bierman (Mrs. J. E. Willman), 1939-1944; Miss Frances Mix, 1944-1946; Miss Evelyn G. Johnson, 1946-1948; and W. V. Herrin, January 1, 1949, to date.

Brokaw Hospital's Board of Trustees, consisting of two trustees elected by each Protestant congregation of McLean county meets quarterly. The Board of Directors, a smaller group, holds monthly meetings, and determines the policies for the operation of the hospital. During 1951 and 1952 Brokaw Hospital spent approximately $30,000.00 annually on free services to the needy of the community.

During the past two decades R. O. Ahlenius, in 1941, completed twelve years as president of the Board of Directors; Parke Enlow served one year; Sumner Goodfellow, three years; Hudson Burr, one year; W. J. Bach, six years; and George P. Davis is in his first year in this office.

The School of Nursing at Brokaw Hospital celebrated its fiftieth anniversary in May and June, 1952, with a Golden Jubilee program, and issued a booklet of its history which included a directory of personnel. The directors of nurses for the past twenty years were: Miss Maude F. Essig, 1934-1939 (she began in 1924); Miss Helen Bierman (Mrs. J. E. Willman), 1939-1944; Miss Frances Mix, 1944-1946; Mrs. Evelyn Lantz, Mrs. Martha Rypins, and Miss Aillean Keckler for short terms; Miss Margaret Mae Cheek, December, 1946, through June, 1948; Mrs. Mary Cade Scott (Mrs. Herman Smith), 1948; and Mrs. Gertrude P. Gallagher, 1949 to the present.

In 1934 there were twenty-six students in the school of nursing; in 1954 students numbering fifty-five were enrolled in Brokaw Hospital School of Nursing which is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. At present the school is affiliated with Illinois Wesleyan University, Peoria State Hospital for Psychiatry, University of Illinois, Cook County Hospital for Pediatrics, University of Illinois Research Hospital for Pediatrics, and McLean County Public Health Department. It also has the approval of the Illinois State Department of Registration and Education. The courses offered are: three years, leading to a diploma in nursing; four years, leading to a bachelor of science in nursing, which course was added in 1951; five years, leading to a bachelor of science degree.

During the period of 1939-1941 the Mae E. Mecherle Memorial Nurses' Home was constructed at a total cost of $64,000.00. It is a four-story, brick structure offering modern living accommodations to approximately sixty students. Adequate facilities are provided here for school activities and for recreation, as well as comfortable living quarters. House mothers for the Nurses' Home have been Mrs. Elizabeth Forman for seven years, and Mrs. Gwendolyn Mitchell since April, 1949.

Due to the lack of suitable facilities and a shortage of personnel, it was necessary to close the Maternity Department in 1942. A gift of $7,000.00 in memory of Paul F. Beich made possible the re-opening of the ward in October, 1946 with a capacity of twelve beds and fourteen bassinets. O. B. supervisors have been: Miss Ruth Munson, 1934-1939 and 1946; Mrs. E. Tindle, 1939, 1940; Mrs. B. Stricklin, 1941; Mrs. Esther Rensberger, 1942, 1947, 1948; Miss Irma Vogel, 1947; Miss Alice Shipley, 1949, 1950; Mrs. Shirley English, 1951; Mrs. Joann Sperry, 1952; Miss Schultheis, 1953.

The present medical staff of Brokaw Hospital includes thirty active members, five associate members, two honorary members, and twenty-four members on the courtesy staff. Doctors from seven towns of McLean County hold appointments in the hospital and from four towns in nearby counties. From 1934 to 1954 these have served as president of the medical staff: Drs. Gerald M. Cline, Homer O. Dolley, E. M.

Stevenson, B. Markowitz, L. T. Fruin, David M. Jenkins, Harry C. Barber, Ralph P. Peairs, Theodore A. Rost, Fred W. Brian, Vincent B. Marquis, C. R. Ahroon, George W. Stephenson, Raymond E. Baxter, G. E. Hartenbower, Ray W. Doud, and Benjamin F. Hoopes.

The following interesting statistics for Brokaw Hospital were compiled for the year beginning October 1, 1952; patients admitted — 3,131; patient days — 25,771; major operations — 565; minor operations — 1,281; anesthetics — 1,592; E.K.G's — 526; laboratory tests — 29,223; diathermy treatments — 188; births — 284; X-rays — 2,519; X-ray treatments — 1,170.

During the years of World War II, 1942-1945, there were forty-six names of alumni nurses on the Service Honor Roll of Brokaw Hospital, and thirteen members of the medical staff were in service. In cooperation with the United States Government, a unit of the Cadet Nurses Corps was organized by the hospital with thirty-five cadets. However, the war had ended before any member of this group had finished her training.

The Women's Service League, inaugurated in 1925, is an auxiliary to Brokaw Hospital. Its hundreds of members from McLean County pay annual dues, and its officers direct a program to secure interest, materials and funds, and also to provide active service in the hospital. Cherry colored uniforms in the hospital indicate hostesses, saleswomen at the gift case, or operators of the snack bar. On the third Monday of each month a group of League members are busy with needles and sewing machines, working on hospital linens. Another activity is the Thrift Shop located at 1006 W. Washington Street in Bloomington. The following have served during the last two decades as presidents of the Women's Service League: Mrs. E. O. Brown, three years; Mrs. E. M. Stevenson, three years; Mrs. Eugene Funk, Jr., two years; Mrs. Charles Stephenson, two years; Mrs. Homer Dolley, two years; Miss Clara R. Brian, one year; Mrs. William G. Read, five years, Mrs. John A. Brokaw, now in her second year.

The past twenty years have seen enormous changes in equipment and treatments. Much improvement has been made. Mention should be made of the use of wonder drugs or antibiotics, the early ambulation of patients, increased use of laboratory and X-ray for diagnosis, specialization of equipment for the treatment of patients, improved dietary therapy, development in the practice of medicine, intravenous therapy, and specialization of personnel, both doctors and nurses.

MENNONITE HOSPITAL, 1934 - 1954

Historical Sketch

The Mennonite Hospital during the years 1932-36 was confronted with the problem of maintaining adequate service while many of the rooms remained vacant. The financial difficulties, nationally, made it impossible for many people to be hospitalized, since neither the individual nor the county had the means to compensate for services rendered.

However, early in 1940, it became apparent that more hospital beds were necessary in the community, and the Mennonite Hospital Association undertook the construction of an east wing which added forty-eight private rooms. The cost of this structure was $80,000, and some members of the medical staff together with the Mennonite constituency contributed enough to complete the wing in 1941 without debt.

With this growth of the hospital there was, of course, a necessary increase in the number of nurses. Housing of the Nursing School became a problem, and by 1946 a new nurses' home was dedicated which would accommodate eighty student nurses and the necessary classrooms and library.

Again during 1949 a campaign was launched to provide the funds for added hospital space. This time the effort of Mennonite Hospital to secure funds was combined in a campaign with St. Joseph's Hospital, which also wished to build an addition. Pledges to the amount of $350,000 were secured and the proceeds in cash were equally divided between the two institutions. With the money thus obtained, construction of another addition to Mennonite Hospital was begun. The increase in the number of beds thus provided will bring the capacity of the hospital to one hundred forty-five, and, in addition, an entirely new surgical unit will be made available, with space for a new laboratory and more adequate X-ray facilities.

Along with the development of the physical plant there were changes in the hospital organization and in the medical staff. During the first twenty-three years of the hospital's history, Rev. E. Troyer had been the sole president of the Association. With the passing of Rev. Troyer and Dr. E. P. Sloan the responsibility of furnishing the fine inspiration to further the advancement of the hospital passed more largely to other members of the board and medical staff.

Dr. E. P. Sloan had been, in effect, the Medical Director of Mennonite Hospital until his passing in 1935. The pattern of the medical staff, thereafter, developed with the presidency each year passing to a member who had not served in that capacity before. Committees and departments gradually came into being with more interest shown in a conscious effort to meet standards accepted by the larger hospitals. In the 1947 Approved Number of the A.C.S. Journal, Mennonite Hospital was listed as fully approved. Subsequently it was provisionally approved, and in 1953 was again listed with full approval. Under the sponsorship of Dr. E. P. Sloan and his associates, Mennonite

Hospital enjoyed a significant reputation in the field of thyroid surgery. Several national clinics were held in Bloomington with leaders in that field participating.

There have been a number of clinics held at Mennonite Hospital in the field of orthopedic surgery under the sponsorship of Dr. Wellmerling. With Dr. Gailey concentrating his hospital work at Mennonite Hospital since 1937, there has been a constant hospital load in the field of eye surgery and clinics in this field have also been accommodated.

Beginning in 1920, with a medical staff of twenty-two members, practically all physicians and surgeons practicing medicine in the county, with more than a dozen from adjacent counties, are now listed on the staff roll. Accordingly at the beginning of 1953 there were ninety-one physicians enrolled either as active, courtesy, associate, or senior active members of the medical staff.

The nursing school, organized in 1920, has graduated three hundred fifty-seven nurses from its three year course. Members of the medical staff have always co-operated in teaching courses in the school. In addition, the faculty consists of two nurses holding Masters Degrees, and two nurses with Bachelors Degrees. The school enjoys affiliation with Illinois State Normal University in its Science Department. The State Department of Education and Registration has always recognized the school. Under the plan of temporary accrediting, it is also approved by the National Nursing Accrediting Service.

The hospital during the year of 1923 treated less than 700 patients at a cost of $40,600; whereas, during 1952 there were 5,528 patients treated with costs amounting to $525,000. The hospital averaged 100 bed patients per day and the nursery accounted for a daily average of eighteen babies. Maintaining necessary services for this patient load required forty-nine graduate nurses, seven technicians, eighty-seven lay workers, and sixty-three nurses in the training school.

FAIRVIEW SANATORIUM, 1934 - 1954

Historical Sketch

The Fairview Sanatorium was completed in the summer of 1919 and was formally opened at a service Sunday afternoon, August 17, 1919. The first patients were admitted August 19, 1919.

It was a well built, fireproof, brick building designed to accommodate thirty-four patients with room for the employees and nurses in the same building. At that time there was great emphasis on the fresh air treatment, and most of the beds for patients were in large unheated wards with large windows which were always open summer and winter.

In 1922 a nurses' home was built with an apartment for the superintendent on the first floor, and rooms for the nurses on the second floor. This made room for additional patients, bringing the capacity up to fifty-two patients.

The fresh air treatment as it was practiced in those early years brought much hardship to both patients and nurses in the winter weather. In 1930-31, heat was installed in the wards, and since that time windows have been kept open only in rest hours and at night, making it possible to give much better care to the patients and adding much to their comfort.

In 1929 a much needed X-ray was installed, and this was improved and modernized in 1935, and again in 1945. In 1931 a sterilizer for dressings, linen, and solutions, was purchased; and in 1938 a passenger elevator was installed, and an incinerator was constructed, making possible the safe disposal of sputum papers, dressings, etc.

Dr. A. Bernice Curry was the first Medical Director. She was succeeded in that office by Dr. Lydia Holmes, Dr. Charles Shultz, and Dr. Vincent B. Marquis, the present incumbent.

Doctors who have served on the Board of Directors of the Sanatorium include Dr. C. M. Noble, Dr. F. L. Wakefield, Dr. A. Bernice Curry McConnell, Dr. Frank Fisher, Dr. F. C. McCormick, and Dr. Ross E. Elvidge.

During the entire period the Sanatorium has been in operation there has been an out-patient clinic held twice a week with the Medical Director in attendance. These clinics are for diagnosis of new cases and follow-up of discharged cases. At first they were held in the Eddy Building in Bloomington. In 1932 the clinic was moved to the Sanatorium in order to make use of the X-ray for out-patients.

With increasing emphasis on chest X-rays as a means of case finding, attendance at the clinics gradually increased until in 1946 it was decided to again hold the clinic downtown. This was made possible by the purchase of X-ray equipment by the McLean County Tuberculosis Association with funds obtained by the sale of Christmas Seals. This X-ray was installed in the offices of the Tuberculosis Association in the American State Bank Building where the clinic has since been held as a joint project of the Sanatorium and the Tuberculosis Association. In the last year, 1952-53, 4,914 X-rays were taken.

Fairview Sanatorium — 1954

During the years since the Sanatorium was opened there have been great advances in the treatment of tuberculosis. In the early years chief reliance was on bed rest and fresh air. After the X-ray was installed it was possible to begin collapse therapy. The first pneumothorax treatments were begun in 1929, and during the following years many patients received these treatments. Later, operations on the phrenic nerve to paralyze the diaphragm became popular, and these treatments were added. During this period thoracoplasty operations were in the developmental stage, and were gradually improved and made safer and more effective. The major operations have not been performed at Fairview Sanatorium, but patients have been transferred to other sanatoria for surgery, and later returned to Fairview for continued treatment. Many have been so treated.

The use of chemotherapy in tuberculosis began in 1945 when streptomycin became available. It was soon found that streptomycin did not cure the disease but it was a great aid when used in addition to the other types of treatment. Since that time chemotherapy has been greatly improved by the addition of paraamino salicylic acid and isoniazid, and today most patients receive at least two of these drugs and many all three, and results are thereby much improved.

Since chemotherapy has been extensively used, results of excisional surgery have been greatly improved, and today pneumonectomy, lobectomy, segmental resections and wedge resections are becoming very popular, and are gradually replacing pneumothorax, pneumoperitoneum, and even thoracoplasty in properly selected cases.

It is very difficult for many patients to adjust to the sanatorium regime, and much attention has always been given to ways and means of helping them. The coming of radio was a great boon to bedridden patients everywhere, and since it has been available new vistas have been opened up which have been very helpful. Also, for several years, regular feature movies have been shown about every two weeks on a screen in front of the building. Occupational therapy has also been a part of the treatment, and more recently rehabilitation programs in charge of a rehabilitation coordinator have been added, and patients are encouraged to take correspondence courses. Through the State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation, teachers can be provided for certain classes.

When the Sanatorium opened, the death rate from tuberculosis in McLean County was 118 per 100,000. By 1933 this had been reduced to 34, and by 1952 to 8. Many factors have probably worked together to bring about this marked improvement, but without doubt the work of the Sanatorium as a center for the whole tuberculosis control program has been one of the chief factors, and has thus saved many lives and much sickness and economic distress.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE

First mention of hospital insurance occurs in the minutes of the May 14, 1940 meeting of the McLean County Medical Society. "Dr. Casner made a report on 'Hospital Insurance Plans' and motion was made and carried that McLean County Medical Society endorse any reliable hospital insurance plan which would be acceptable to our local hospitals, and would provide patients with their free choice of doctors."

FAMILY RELATIONSHIPS

Family relationships are numerous throughout the membership in the McLean County Medical Society. The largest family group occurs in the Sloan-Ball family of six doctors.

Six Members: Brothers — E. P. Sloan, Guy Sloan, and O. J. Sloan. Their sister was the mother of O. H. Ball and W. G. Ball. Howard P. Sloan is the son of E. P. Sloan.

Four Members: Brothers — William A. Elder, Charles S. Elder, and Guilford D. Elder; Horace W. Elder was the son of William A. Elder.

Three Members: Grandfather — A. L. Fox; son — Ralph Deems Fox; grandson — Ralph McIntosh Fox.

Uncle — James Loar; nephew — Nelson Loar; Ralph R. Loar is the son of Nelson Loar.

Brothers — Charles Menaphe Noble, Joseph Price Noble; Robert Avery Noble was the son of Charles Noble.

Brothers — William A. Dunn and McCann Dunn; Jeff Dunn was the son of William A. Dunn.

Father — W. P. Scott; sons — T. C. and Walter E. Scott.

Parents — Rhoda G. Yolton and J. L. Yolton; son — Leroy W. Yolton.

Two Members: Father and son — Frank Deneen and Owen Deneen; T. T. Haering and O. E. Haering; William McIntosh and James Robert McIntosh; James C. McNutt and Justin McNutt; B. P. Marsh and Walworth Marsh; Charles E. Shultz and Gordon Shultz; Ira E. Vandervort and Franklin C. Vandervort.

Uncle and Nephew — Edson B. Hart and Harlan Hart; F. L. Wakefield and Bard Wakefield.

Brothers — R. L. Atkinson and W. H. Atkinson; Lester B. Cavins and S. T. Cavins; Charles E. Chapin and H. S. Chapin; George W. France and John T. France; Ferd C. McCormick and Nelson K. McCormick.

Husband and wife — Gilbert B. Causey and Helen Denny (Causey); E. K. Crothers and Maria L. Crothers; George B. Kelso and Annie E. Kelso.

FIFTY YEAR CLUB

On March 8, 1938, the McLean County Medical Society held a guest dinner at Roland's Tea Room in honor of the first member of the Fifty Year Club of McLean County — Dr. Rhoda G. Yolton. Other members who have received the Fifty Year Pin from the Illinois State Medical Society are Drs. Stanley S. Boulton; Thomas Moate, deceased; Ralph Plummer Peairs; Ora M. Rhodes, deceased; Frank L. Wakefield, deceased; and Edward C. Williams.

HONORS FOR THE DOCTOR

"I have never had the time," said the old doctor as he looked over his personal questionnaire, "to accept honorary positions in civic life." And after the word "Honors" on his questionnaire he firmly wrote "None."

No honors for the doctor! The very phrase is erroneous. His life is filled with honors though they may be intangible. His hostages to fame are the lives he has saved. His medals are the inky footprints of newborn babies he has ushered into the world. His applause and expressions of adulation are the prayers of thankfulness wafted toward heaven by anguished parents.

No title of high rank can compare in greater honor than that of doctor, for the title of the healer is closest to that of Christ's lifetime work. No profession holds more courage; the doctor fights as dire a foe as any soldier — ignorance, disease, death! He builds as marvelous an edifice as the most eminent architect or engineer, though he builds with bone and nerves instead of wood and steel. He creates in a delicate operation as distinguished a performance of virtuosity as the artist or musician.

Honors for the doctor? No judge in the highest court can vie with the dignity and nobleness of a doctor's calling; no king has a more illustrious sceptre or emblem of authority than the old doctor's fifty year pin. His is the honor to serve humanity. The humblest country doctor and the most renowned city surgeon reap equal honors in serving their fellow men with their marvelously trained hands and minds and hearts.

No honors for the doctor! Rather let us say, "All honors are the doctor's!"

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS
McLEAN COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY
Bloomington, Illinois

REVISED AND ADOPTED NOVEMBER EIGHTH, 1938

CONSTITUTION

ARTICLE I. NAME

The name and title of this organization shall be the McLean County Medical Society.

ARTICLE II. THE PURPOSES OF THIS SOCIETY

The purposes of this Society shall be to organize the physicians of McLean County so that by frequent meetings and full and frank exchange of views the members may secure intelligent unity and harmony in every phase of their labors as will elevate and make effective the opinions of the profession in all scientific, legislative, public health, material and social affairs in order that the profession may receive that respect and support within its own ranks and from the community to which its honorable history and great achievements entitles it. Its further purpose is to join with other County Societies and through it with the other State Associations, to unite with and maintain the American Medical Association.

ARTICLE III. ELIGIBILITY

Any registered physician residing and practicing in McLean County who is of good moral and professional standing and is a citizen of the United States, and who does not support, practice, or claim to practice an exclusive system of medicine, shall be eligible for membership.

ARTICLE IV. MEETINGS

Regular meetings shall be held at such time and place as may be determined by the Society. Special meetings may be called by the President whenever in his judgment the interests of the Society require them or when requested to do so by five members of the Society. A call for a special meeting shall state the object of such meeting, at which no business except that stated in the call shall be transacted.

ARTICLE V. OFFICERS

The officers of this Society shall consist of a President, Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer, Delegate and Alternate Delegate, and a Board of Three Censors. These officers, except the Delegate and the Board of Censors, shall be elected annually. The Delegate shall be elected for two years, and in accordance with the Constitution and By-Laws of the State Society. One member of the Board of Censors shall be elected each year to serve three years, provided that at the first election after the adoption of this Constitution one member of the Board shall be elected for one year, one for two, and one for three years.

ARTICLE VI. FUNDS AND EXPENSES

Funds for meeting the expenses of the Society shall be raised by annual dues, special assessments and voluntary contributions. Funds may be appropriated by vote of the Society for such purposes as will promote its welfare and that of the profession.

ARTICLE VII. AMENDMENTS

The Society may amend any article of this Constitution by a two-thirds vote of its members at any regular meeting, provided that such amendment or amendments are not in conflict with the laws and regulations of the State Society; provided also, that such amendment shall have been read in open session at a previous regular meeting and shall have been sent by mail to each member ten days in advance of the meeting at which final action is to be taken.

ARTICLE VIII. MEMBERSHIP

The Society shall consist of active, honorary and emeritus members. Any reputable and legally qualified physician who is a citizen of the United States and a resident of McLean County, and who does not support, practice or claim to practice sectarian medicine may be eligible to active membership. Any active member may upon request be elected to honorary membership. He will not be entitled to the privileges of an active member, will not have to pay dues, and will no longer be a member of the State Society.

An active member who has been in good standing for thirty-five years and has reached the age of seventy years may be elected to emeritus membership. He may be recommended to emeritus membership in the State Society and when so elected he shall have all the rights and privileges of an active member without the payment of dues to this Society or the State Society.

BY - LAWS

CHAPTER I. ORDER OF BUSINESS

Section 1. The order of business of this Society shall be at all times, subject to the vote of three-fourths of all the members present. Until permanently altered, except when suspended for a time, the regular order of business shall be as follows, unless changed by three-fourths of the members present:

1. Call to order.
2. Reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the secretary.
3. Report of committees and unfinished business.
4. Board of Censors report. Communications received and read.
5. New business.
6. Report of cases.
7. Program and discussion.
8. Adjournment.

CHAPTER II. MEMBERSHIP

Section 1. A candidate for membership shall make application in writing and shall state his age, his college and date of graduation, the place in which he has practiced, and the date of his registration in this State. The application must be accompanied by the annual dues and must be endorsed by two members of this Society. It shall be referred to the Board of Censors, who shall inquire into the standing of the applicant, assure themselves that he or she is duly registered according to the laws of the State, and report at the next regular meeting of this Society. Election shall be by ballot, and three-fourths of the votes of the members present and voting shall be necessary to elect. The application shall be returned to the secretary, who shall file it for future reference. Applications for membership from rejected candidates shall not again be considered within one year of such rejection.

Section 2. A physician accompanying his application with a transfer card from another component society of this or any State within sixty days of the issuance of said card, shall be admitted without fee on a majority vote of the members present, and without the application being referred to the Board of Censors. Such application may be acted upon at the meeting at which it is presented on vote of three-fourths of the members present, otherwise it shall lie over until the next regular meeting. No annual dues for the current year shall be charged against such members, provided the same have been paid to the Society from which the applicant comes.

Section 3. A physician residing in an immediately adjoining county may become a member of this Society in like manner and on the same terms as a physician living in this county, by permission of the society of the county in which the applicant lives.

Section 4. A member in good standing who is free from all indebtedness to this Society, and against whom no charges are pending, in case he wishes to withdraw, shall be granted a transfer card. This card shall give the date the member associated himself with this Society, the date of issuance of the card, and shall be signed by the President and the Secretary. It shall be accompanied with a copy of the application presented at the time the member joined the Society, for information to the Society to which the member desires to attach himself.

Section 5. The members of the Society shall be equally privileged to attend all the meetings; take part in the proceedings, and shall be eligible to any office of honor within the gift of the Society, so long as they conform to this Constitution and By-Laws, including the payment of dues. A member who is under sentence of suspension or expulsion shall not be permitted to take part in any of the proceedings, or be eligible to any office until relieved of such disability. It is further provided that none of the privileges of membership shall be extended to any person not a member of this Society except on a majority vote of the Society in regular meeting.

Section 6. A member who is guilty of a criminal offense or of gross misconduct either as a physician or as a citizen, or who violates any of the provisions of this Constitution and By-Laws or the Principles of Ethics of the American Medical Association, shall be liable to censure, suspension or expulsion. Charges against a member must be made in writing and conform to the model procedure laid down for such action in the Constitution and By-Laws of the Illinois State Medical Society. Censure or suspension shall require a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting, and three-fourths vote of those present and voting shall be required to expel a member. No action shall be taken by the Society in such cases until at least six weeks have elapsed since the filing of the charges. A member suspended for a definite time shall be reinstated at the expiration of the time.

Section 8. Members expelled from this Society for any cause shall be eligible for membership after one year from the date of expulsion and on the same terms and in like manner as original applicants.

CHAPTER II. POWERS AND DUTIES

Section 1. This Society shall have general direction of the affairs of the medical profession of the County, and its influence shall be constantly exerted to better the scientific, material and social condition of every physician within its jurisdiction. Systematic efforts shall be made by each member, and by the Society as a whole, to increase the membership until it embraces every reputable physician in the County.

Section 2. A meeting shall be held at 6:30 P. M. on the second Tuesday of the month, September to June inclusive. When advisable this date may be changed by the officers. Five members shall constitute a quorum. The officers and the program committee shall profit by the experience and example of other similar societies, and strive to arrange for attractive and successful programs for each meeting. Crisp papers, discussions, and reports of cases shall be arranged for and encouraged, while tedious and profitless proceedings and discussions shall be avoided as far as practicable.

Section 3. The Society shall endeavor to educate its members to the belief that the physician should be a leader in his community in character, in learning, in dignified and manly bearing, and in courteous and open treatment of his brother physicians, in order that the profession may occupy that place in its own and the public estimation to which it is entitled.

CHAPTER III. OFFICERS

Section 1. The officers of the Society shall be elected at the December meeting in each year, which shall be known as the annual meeting. A nominating committee of three members shall be elected by the Society at the October meeting and this committee shall report at the November meeting. It shall present the names of at least one candidate for each elective office, provided that other names may be presented at the time of election. Officers elected at the annual meeting shall take office at the May meeting following the election.

Section 2. The duty of the President shall be to preside at meetings of the Society, preserve order, state and put all questions and motions agreeable to the statement and intention of the members, regulate debates, decide questions and matters in dispute, and perform such other duties as the By-Laws may require, and also to appoint all standing committees.

Section 3. The Vice-President shall perform all the duties of the President in his absence, or when called upon by the latter to preside in his place. In the absence of both President and Vice-President, a presiding officer pro tempore shall be elected, and he shall perform the duties of the President.

Section 4. The Secretary-Treasurer shall keep a correct record of all the transactions of the Society in a book provided for the purpose. He shall give notice of all meetings, take charge of books and papers committed to his care, collect all moneys due the Society and pay them out on the order of the Society signed by the President and countersigned by the Secretary. He shall have authority to pay the expenses of speakers who appear upon the programs but these bills should be presented for approval at the next regular meeting of the Society. He shall keep a record of all moneys received and paid out by him, and shall once a year, or oftener if required by the Society, exhibit a statement of all receipts and expenditures as Treasurer and shall deliver up to his successor in office, all books, papers, moneys and other property in his custody belonging to the Society. At the close of the year he shall receive an honorarium of not less than twenty-five dollars. The President shall appoint an auditing committee of two members to audit the books and report at the annual meeting.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of the Board of Censors to carefully examine the professional standing, legal qualifications and moral character of all applicants for membership and report at the next regular meeting of the Society. Also to have general oversight over the professional and ethical conduct of the members, and on receiving the written complaint of the unprofessional and unethical conduct of a member signed by one or more members, they shall immediately investigate the charges and if in their judgment the member complained of is guilty, they shall use their influence to cause such member to discontinue such unprofessional and unethical practice and shall report their findings in writing at the next regular meeting.

Section 6. The delegate shall attend and faithfully represent the profession of this County in the House of Delegates of the State Society, and shall make a report of the proceedings of that body to this Society at the earliest opportunity.

Section 7. The annual dues shall be $12.00 and shall be payable on January 1 of each year. The amount of the dues may be changed at the annual meeting, by a majority vote of those present. Any member who shall fail to pay his annual dues by April 1 shall be held as suspended without action on the part of the Society. A member suspended for non-payment of dues shall be restored to full membership on payment of all indebtedness. Members more than one year in arrears shall be dropped from membership in this Society.

Section 8. The fiscal year of this Society shall be from January to December inclusive.

Section 9. The deliberations of this Society shall be governed by parliamentary usage as contained in Roberts Rules of Order, unless otherwise determined by vote.

Section 10. The Principals of Medical Ethics of the American Medical Association shall govern this Society.

Section 11. These By-Laws may be amended, added to or repealed at any stated meeting by a two-thirds vote of the members present. Provided, that such motion shall be made at a stated meeting and lay over until a subsequent stated meeting, each member to have notice of such motion.

Section 12. The Officers of the Society and the Board of Censors shall constitute an Executive Committee, which may transact any routine business of the organization, and report the same at its first subsequent meeting.

Section 13. The standing committees of this Society shall be as follows:

1. Program.
2. Entertainment.
3. Legislative.
4. Public Relations.

AMENDMENTS

ARTICLE III. ELIGIBILITY

(As presented at regular meeting of McLean County Medical Society on March 11, 1941, and adopted at regular meeting on April 8, 1941.)

Any registered physician residing and practicing in McLean County who is of good moral and professional standing and is a citizen of the United States, and who does not support, practice, or claim to practice an exclusive system of medicine, and who does not contract for the treatment of employees or members of any fraternal, educational, commercial, or other organization (except with Supervisors of the County of McLean, city or state governments, or under the provision of the Workmen's Compensation Act of the State of Illinois) shall be eligible for membership.

ARTICLE VIII. MEMBERSHIP

(Strike out Article VIII and in lieu of part so stricken substitute following — adopted September 9, 1947.)

Section 1. The Society shall consist of active members, emeritus members, residency members, Government Service members, past service members and honorary members.

Section 2. Any reputable and legally qualified physician who is a citizen of the United States and a resident of McLean County, and who does not support, practice or claim to practice sectarian medicine may be eligible to active membership.

Section 3. An active member who has been in good standing for thirty-five years and has reached the age of seventy years may be recommended to emeritus membership in the Illinois State Medical Society, and when so elected by the State Society he shall have all the rights and privileges of an active member without the payment of dues to this Society or the State Society.

Section 4. Residency Members. Two years after being licensed to practice medicine in the State of Illinois, a physician serving full time as a resident or fellow in an approved hospital in the State of Illinois, may enjoy all the privilege of full membership at a special rate up to five years after graduation in medicine. Thereafter the full rate shall apply. The special rate shall be one-half of the per capita amount fixed by the Society for active members.

Section 5. Government Service Members. Physicians serving as medical officers of the United States Army, United States Navy, the United States Public Health Service and those serving full time in the Veterans Administration who are members of a component society, shall be eligible for membership as long as they are engaged actively in their respective service, and thereafter if they have been retired on account of age or physical disability or after long and honorable service under the provisions of an act of Congress.

Section 6. Past Service Members. A member who has been in good standing but who has become disabled, may on recommendation of this society be made a Past Service Member, and have all the rights and privileges of membership without the payment of dues to this society or the State Society.

Section 7. Honorary Members. Any active member may upon request be elected to honorary membership. He will not be entitled to the privilege of an active member, will not have to pay dues, and will no longer be a member of the State Society.

BY-LAW

MEMBERSHIP

Each elected applicant shall serve one year of probationary membership before final election to the membership.

(Introduced December, 1953. Passed January, 1954.)

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

We, the undersigned committee, wish to express our appreciation to Clara Louise Kessler for the way in which she has assembled the greatly detailed facts of one hundred years of medical history in McLean County, and has made them into a book. Her interest in this project has produced not just a book — she has added flavor by preserving, unchanged, the historical writing of earlier years; she has unfolded beauty by portraying faithfulness to the ideals of the profession as shown in the dedicated march of a long panorama of doctors; she has disclosed adventure and heroism by etching an amazing patriotic frieze of McLean County soldier-doctors; she has introduced romance by revealing in the background of the doctors' lives a charming host of wives and children; and in a very special way she has made this volume of history a stepping stone to inspiration and a guiding post to endeavor for future generations of McLean County doctors. We are grateful to her for this achievement.
